

GENERAL MANAGER POSITIONS – COAL MINING

Our Client is an international energy company with extensive global operations which include coal mining, oil refining, lubricant and LPG manufacturing, petrochemical plants and marketing of petroleum products. Applications are now being invited for three (3) General Manager appointments, all reporting to the Brisbane-based Chief Executive Officer for the Company's Australian coal business.

General Manager – Coal Mine

- Hunter Valley location
- Open pit mine
- Growth opportunity
- Ref No. JCB/5005

Our Client's Hunter Valley operation produces steaming coal for both local and export long-term contracts.

As mine General Manager you will be responsible for the management of all aspects of the company's Hunter Valley mine site, including safe and efficient mining (owner/operator), short to mid-term mine planning, staff performance, mine performance and cost management, implementation of company policies and standards, coal quality standards, all statutory compliance matters and management of community relationships.

You will have tertiary qualifications in Mining Engineering or similar, and preferably hold a Statutory Mine Manager's Certificate. You are likely to currently be an experienced mine GM, Mining Manager or mining consultant with proven technical and leadership success.

You will have already demonstrated exceptional communication and interpersonal relationship skills so as to effectively interact with employees, customers, community, government and other mining leaders in the Hunter Valley.

The position provides an opportunity for you to live in the much-sought-after Hunter Valley and offers a competitive and flexible remuneration package.

General Manager – Coal Marketing

- New position
- Brisbane-based
- Growth company
- Ref No. JCB/5006

As a member of the Australian Head Office management team in Brisbane, your responsibilities will include:

- Development of Group marketing strategy and coal market forecasts
- Development of new coal markets
- Management of all existing coal sales contracts
- Development of relationships with existing and new customers
- Transportation contracts for current coal commitments
- Quality assurance of sales

As the successful candidate, you will have appropriate tertiary business or engineering qualifications as the backdrop to success in past similar marketing roles, preferably in the coal industry.

Your coal marketing or coal metallurgical background will have provided a strong understanding of coal logistics, coal qualities, marketing strategies and coal market analyses and projections.

This appointment will provide international marketing exposure for the right candidate. You will be based in Brisbane and will benefit from a competitive and flexible remuneration package.

General Manager – Development

- New position
- Brisbane-based
- Key strategic role
- Ref No. JCB/5007

In this role you will strongly interact with the CEO, Mine General Managers, other corporate GMs, coal industry consultants and our Client's international strategists. Your responsibilities will include:

- Mining investment analyses
- Transport and logistics strategies for new projects
- Mining and exploration tenements
- Long-term coal mining strategy
- Coal resource definition and evaluation
- Project feasibility studies
- Review of short-term planning activities

You will have a Geology or Mining Engineering degree and have had extensive hands-on experience in long-term mining strategies and developments. You will have already successfully demonstrated strong analytical, planning and organisational skills. You will have an understanding of the Joint Ore Reserves Committee Code and its reporting standards, and be familiar with geological modelling and mine planning software.

You will pave the way for future Group expansions in Australia while providing technical and business support for GMs on shorter term matters. You will be based in Brisbane and will benefit from a competitive and flexible remuneration package.
